

The Scroll depicts to scale the the earliest biblical record down The blue 'teardrops' each represent individual life and it is obvious examination of The Scroll that the historical event was the Flood heralded a massive and irreversible of the ecosphere, evidenced by 'teardrops' after the flood, as The chaos of the Flood lasted afterwards the longevity of men (before the Flood) rapidly tapered to a limit of 120 years.

The dating conventions used in the Torah and the work of scholars note that ancient dates are empirically accurate. Adam's life is good until the time of Moses, and are reckoned in years BC.

Evolutionists claim that the earth is millions of years ago, having many other living forms. But The Scroll the biblical account - ancient life under the direction of the creator.

It is worth noting that the

ADAMIC YEARS

The Generations

Note how longevity stays constant until the Flood, then falls off to a vastly lower level.

- Generations
- 1 ADAM
- 2 SETH
- 3 ENOSH
- 4 KENAN
- 5 MAHALAN
- 6 JAHAPHETH
- 7 ENOSH
- 8 LAMECH
- 9 METUSHAH
- 10 NOAH

